

Houston's home for plane spotting!

Welcome to HoustonSpotters.net!

Come join our discussion forum and share your adventure, share your pictures of Houston area planes in our photo gallery, and learn about basic aviation concepts with Spotting 101!

There are also spotting guides for the major Houston airports. These guides give you the information you need to follow the rules, but also make sure you have fun!

There is no cost to join, just sign up and introduce yourself!

The screenshot shows the website's header with navigation links: Home, Spotting Resources, Events, Forum, Photo Gallery, FAQ, and Contact. A featured image shows an F-18C on a runway during a storm. Below the image is a caption: "Stormy night! F-18C 164238 '30Z' from VFA-15 rests at EFD after a thunderstorm had just passed over the base. Photo copyright Zachary Falzon. View all images featured on the home page." To the right is a "Welcome to HoustonSpotters.net!" message with introductory text and a "Current Events" section. At the bottom, there is a "Find us on Facebook" button and a "DryPail DONATE" button.

Terminal D's European Lineup at IAH. Taken ramp side by D-4.

Photographer: Jeremiah Morales

An F-18 and T-38 taxi in for Wings Over Houston 2006.

Photographer: Joe Fernandez

Spotting at Hobby Airport

Photographer: Blair McFarlin

HoustonSpotters.net features:

- Discussion Forum
- Photo Gallery
- Spotting guides
- Local weather information
- Educational resources

Spotting at IAH

Photographer: Andrew Broadfoot